Static State

The navigation bar is always at the top of the page for ease of use, and is a shade of blue that ties into the logo. Icons next to navigation links help users identify the page quickly and easily, and are easy to learn. The approach is minimalist, yet visual.

The static state displays simple white text, and only displays the primary navigation.

The navigation bar displayed here is the design for both the desktop and the tablet version of the website (the tablet version will be a bit shrunk down, however, to better fit the screen size of an iPad or similar).
